

Stand Out From the Crowd With a ...

Conquistador

Competition hunts have always been fast and furious. All of those people with all of their detectors making all of that interference. It's a wonder that you're able to find anything at all. The Tesoro Conquistador is made for the serious competition hunter and has the features that give you the ability to cut through the interference and find the coins that your competitors are missing.

Fast Frequency Shift: The Conquistador's trigger-style frequency shifter is quick and easy to use. In the middle of a hunt you won't have to fiddle with knobs and dials. Just click and go. You can even change frequencies in the middle of a swing.

Light Weight: At less than 2½ pounds, you will be able to swing the Conquistador through the longest hunt with no arm or shoulder cramps. Less weight also translates into more speed, which will allow you to get onto the hunt field faster and find the targets before someone else does.

Superior Tesoro Technology: The Conquistador comes with Tesoro's Max Boost Sensitivity, which will allow you to find the deeper targets. Our famous discrimination helps you pick the treasure out of the trash — making it a detector that does everything. Plus, Tesoro's Exclusive Lifetime Warranty covers it all.

The next time you go off to do battle on the hunt field, don't take just any old detector. Take a Tesoro Conquistador.

Tesoro Conquistador

What's In A Name?

In twenty years of business, Tesoro Electronics has never had a metal detector that has had the name "Conquistador." With all of the southwestern themes that are attached to the Tesoro brand, the name seemed like a natural. But none of the detectors ever really stood up and demanded to be a Conquistador—until now.

The Popularity Begins

Tesoro's μ Max detectors have become very popular with the competition hunters because of their light weight, super-fast response time and little or no crosstalk with other units. But as our popularity grew so did the chances of interference with other detectors.

A Tesoro First

The Conquistador is the first Tesoro metal detector that combines our MicroMAX technology with the ability to shift the operating frequency. With the advances in worldwide technology, such as power and data lines, an expansion of mobile radio and cell phone usage, and the growing popularity of metal detectors, the chances of working in areas of radio frequency interference are increasing. The Conquistador will help you work in those areas without any impediments. By shifting the frequency slightly, the majority of interference problems can be eliminated.

The Conquistador's wide range of controls are varied enough to give the experienced detectorist the ability to tune the detector to his exact usage but are simple enough that the beginner can feel confident as well. The Conquistador features a factory preset ground balance for turn-on-and-go use. It also has an adjustable sensitivity, discriminate and threshold knobs, and a true non-motion all metal circuit.
