

This cache was found at an abandoned mansion in New Jersey by Leon Aponte with a 6000/Di Pro. Six gold coins in all - four of them $20 golds - with the oldest dated 1861.

White's Pulse Induction underwater detectors have recovered many treasures from sunken ships. These treasures were recovered by Ken White, Jr. from a Spanish ship which sank off the Florida coast in the 1700's.

Everyone dreams of finding a gold nugget. Most White's detectors can be used for prospecting, but the GOLDMASTER II is designed specifically for finding even the tiny nuggets in the worst ground conditions.
